BLM's Lost Creek Record of Decision to be Reviewed

LITTLETON, Colo., Nov. 13, 2012 /PRNewswire/ -- Ur-Energy Inc. (TSX:URE, NYSE MKT:URG) ("Ur-Energy" or the "Company") advises that the Company has become aware that a petition for review has been filed in U.S. District Court by a Wyoming-based conservation group regarding the United States Bureau of Land Management (BLM) Record of Decision for the Company's Lost Creek ISR Project where construction is proceeding.

(Logo: <http://photos.prnewswire.com/prnh/20110913/LA67628LOGO>)

The BLM decision was the final step in a process that involved a host of federal and state agencies, years of evaluation and multiple opportunities for public participation. "Filings such as this following a federal agency decision are common practice in today's legal landscape", noted Ur-Energy's Chief Executive Officer Wayne Heili. "We anticipate that the United States will vigorously defend BLM's decision making process and Record of Decision. Further, Ur-Energy will take all appropriate steps to ensure that our interests are fully represented in the proceedings".

Ur-Energy initiated construction activities at the fully permitted Lost Creek Project site in early October 2012 following the receipt of the Record of Decision. Significant progress has been made on the completion of the plant foundation, site earthwork, main access roads, fencing and power lines. Work is continuing on the plant construction and with the development of the first mine unit.

About Ur-Energy

Ur-Energy is a junior uranium mining company currently constructing its first in-situ recovery (ISR) uranium mine in south-central Wyoming at its fully licensed and permitted Lost Creek project. The Lost Creek processing facility will have two million pounds per year capacity and is anticipated to be in production mid-year 2013. Ur-Energy engages in the identification, acquisition, exploration and development of uranium projects in the United States and Canada. Shares of Ur-Energy trade on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol "URE" and on the NYSE MKT under the symbol "URG". Ur-Energy's corporate office is located in Littleton, Colorado; its registered office is in Ottawa, Ontario. Ur-Energy's website is www.ur-energy.com.
